

F&D F5500U: Truly cinematic surround sound experience

Known to be a front-runner in audio products, F&D has once again rolled out a must experience 5.1 surround sound speaker system. Owing to the increasing demand for enhanced sound experience in the comfort of one's home, the company has introduced F5500U, the 5.1 home theatre speakers.

The system comes powered with 3-inch full range drivers for satellites and 6.5-inch bass driver for sub-woofer. It comprises a heavy-duty metal grill design for both satellite and sub-woofer along with a high glossy plastic satellite, to suit your interiors.

Ensuring user friendliness and ease, F5500U is equipped with a USB/SD card reader, which supports MP3/WMA dual format decoding. This 5.1 home theatre system also allows the user to enjoy up to 100 FM stations. Bid adieu to all network related issues as the system promises uninterrupted digital FM that works on PLL technology.

Perhaps the most striking feature in F&D's speakers is retained in F5500U too. The big wooden cabinet sub-woofer that delivers heart-thumping bass is a definite value-add. The effective and innovative energy-saving design that brings together the system is built to perfection by experts.

Increasing accessibility and convenience, F5500U comes along with a fluorescent full-function remote control that will let you sit comfortably on your couch and operate the system.

At an MRP of just Rs 7,990/-, F&D beats many other players in the market which offer surround sound. It is time you cut down shelling out hundreds to visit the cinema when this black beauty can convert your room into one.

Commenting on the launch of the new home theatre system Mr Rajesh Bansal, Director F&D said: "F5500U is a perfect blend of technological prowess and style offering true home theatre surround sound experience at an affordable cost".
