

F&D's A530U - A 2.1 Surround System - Powerful Sound, Compact Size

As Fenda Audio, a leader in sound technology winds up on yet another exciting year for electronics, it has introduced its last product on the speaker line - a 2.1 Surround Sound speaker with 5000W PMPO. Dubbed the A530U, it is yet another fine offering in the category whose products have delivered unbeatable performance and inimitable style.

A surround sound system designed for those looking for that edge in a compact space, the A530U has the power of two speakers, which deliver clear, powerful sound. The sub-woofer comes with a 6.5 inch full-range driver and the satellite speakers are powered by 3-inch full range drivers for high performance sound quality.

The A530U flaunts a heavy-duty attitude with metal grills as also high glossy front panels, scoring high in the looks department. The system will sound powerful but will exude nothing but sleek elegance thanks to its wooden cabinet. The wood factor reduces distortion while the bass fills your room with clear, powerful sound.

Those who seek the new aural experience whether from their couch, gaming zone or media rooms can just use the system's USB/SD reader to go about their experience. Like most modern offerings of F&D, the A530U has smooth connectivity to MP3 players, PC, TV, CD and DVD players. With a built-in digital FM player with 100 FM stations storage and an advanced PLL technology, this console has multiple purposes for multiple moods.

Priced at Rs 4990/- , the A530U 2.1 Speaker System should undoubtedly be on top of the mind of anyone looking for power that is compact.
