

Raise your heights of sound excellence with F&D's T-80U

The 2.0 Tower Speaker

When one says 'towering personality', it refers not only to the physical attributes but also to the stature. Embodying both the values and standing tall in many sound lovers' drawing rooms is the T-80U, one of F&D's tall claims to fame in the speaker segment. At 780 mm, this wooden beauty is packed with features that aren't tough to notice either.

This 2.0 channel system has been designed for music and movie enthusiasts looking for that edge of innovation. It's three-way acoustic design, one-inch silk dome tweeter and a four-inch full range speaker with a 6.5 inch sub-woofer for every channel makes it an easy task for it to fill your room with clear, powerful sound. At 10,000 W PMPO, its user is only going to have a bombastic time with dual microphone inputs.

Housed in a wooden enclosure, the T-80U's dark cherry wood color and slim design complements the décor and adds style to any room.

At its heart, the tower has been engineered for multi-functional usage hub ready to play the most popular MP3 /WMA audio formats through USB/SD card reader. It offers easy connectivity to personal devices such as PC, DVD player TV and Mobile. Moreover, it comes with Max.100 FM stations storage which also allows users to tune-in to popular FM channels.

Not to forget, the bright LCD display, fully functional remote control and touch sense control add to the user's ease of function.

The speaker is available at a price of Rs 10,990 and importantly, comes with 12 months warranty. Commenting on the launch, Rajesh Bansal, Director F&D said, "This new 2.0 tower speaker is a step forward in our commitment to deliver high quality performance with premium looks and quality at affordable prices."
